MESSAGE FROM CHAIRMAN

As the WCEF Chairman, as well as the Founder and Chairman of the International Strategy Institute (ISI), being the Co-Host of the annual World Chinese Economic Forum (WCEF), I am pleased to inform you that the 11th WCEF will take place this year in the city of Hangzhou, China on 11-12 December 2019, with the theme "Realising the Vision of Shared Development for a Better World".

Since its inception in 2009, the World Chinese Economic Forum (WCEF) has gone from strength to strength. It started off as a modest platform discussing the potential of China as a global economic powerhouse, the main issues faced by the Chinese diaspora and repercussions from global geopolitics. Throughout the years, WCEF has cemented its place as a champion of ASEAN-China relations and a hub for the Chinese diaspora network. After 10 years of building a collaborative platform for China and the Chinese diaspora, a new chapter for WCEF is about to unfold.

This year 2019 marks the first year that WCEF will take a bold move to discuss the prospect of Pax Sinica in a changing world. As the world turns to protectionism and threatening the global economy into recession, China offers a new concept of shared prosperity and development never heard before in the lexicon of global economics. Through vehicles such as the Belt and Road Initiative (BRI), institutions such as the Asian Infrastructure Investment Bank (AIIB), our connectivity and common destiny as one humanity is sealed.

For decades, the global system that we have created, has been made to divide us. It ensures that one shall prosper only at the expense of the other, and that one global power cannot survive without decimating another. That system is not sustainable. The world needs to urgently find a solution, an alternative system that can ensure our survival as one humanity. The rapid growth of disruptive technologies today brings us closer as ever before. It is breaking down every barrier that we have created to divide nations, cultures and people. We should begin to harness these technologies to bind us together, and not to create conflict barriers between us.

MESSAGE FROM CHAIRMAN

11th WCEF takes a stand to explore this new world order, to take a chance to understand China and its vision for a better world, despite the negative perceptions propagated by the global mainstream media today. This 2-day Forum is filled with thought-provoking sessions starting with a corporate visit on Day 1 to some of the best Hangzhou Tech businesses to give delegates a first-hand experience of advanced Chinese technology.

Day 2 comprises sessions that discusses about the future world namely disruptive technologies, startups and new industries, the vital importance of business integrity amidst the rapidly expanding BRI project, the opportunities and implications of 5G, the future of global trade and BRI's role in it, the future of media in a digital world and the prospect of a strong partnership between ASEAN and China in the decades ahead.

But 11th WCEF is no ordinary Forum. It is not just a platform for ideas. But more importantly it is the hub for intense and curated business networking through our matchmaking suite and chat pods called Designated Networking Area (DNA).

All this and more at the 11th WCEF in Hangzhou, China on 11-12 December. It will be a chance of a lifetime you should not miss. We hope to see you there.

THE PROGRAMME

10:15 - 11:15

Main Hall

The Future of Global Trade

As uncertainty looms following the trade dispute between China and the US, the world economy suffers. High tariff barriers continue to hurt not only the economies of both countries, but other countries globally. The free trade framework is at its breaking point. What trade deal can best work for both countries and salvage the free trade framework? What are the challenges and opportunities for the global business community?

11:15 - 12:15

Main Hall

5G and The Tech Wave - Embracing the Next Frontier

The race for technological advancement between nations not only has economic, but also security implications for nations. Just like its 4G predecessor, the roll-out of 5G technology, will involve patents of tremendous monetary value as well as massive data reservoir that creates a lot of security uncertainties. As tech giants lead the pack in building the 5G infrastructure globally, will security be a concern? What does 5G roll-out entail? Can 5G be implemented with safety nets on privacy? What are the business opportunities available in the 5G revolution?

12:15 - 13:30

Community Power Lunch

14:00 - 15:00

Hall A

Belt and Road Initiative (BRI) - Redefining Global Trade

BRI remains one of China's most ambitious global projects to connect regions and continents with each other through an intricate trade network involving road, rail and sea routes. Involving 152 countries spanning across Asia and Central and Eastern Europe, an estimated USD4 trillion are set to be invested in infrastructure corridors of 65 countries representing 75% of the world's population, 55% of its GNP and 75% of its energy reserves. This is bound to drastically reshape global trade within the Eurasian region. But concerns over 'debt trap' continue to hamper efforts. Are these concerns justified? What is the actual mechanism of infrastructure investments? What are the business opportunities available under BRI? Where is BRI going from here?

THE PROGRAMME

Hall B

Ensuring Business Integrity amidst BRI Expansion

As the Belt and Road Initiative continues to expand and make inroads in key countries across the region, the demand for accountability, business integrity and good governance is as important as ever. What are the key indicators for good governance in BRI implementation? What are the main challenges to implementing integrity? What are the practical solutions for policymakers to mitigate leakages and corruption?

Hall A

Future of Media in a Digital World

In an age of information overload due to digital advancement, trust is a scarce currency. The rapid development of digital technology comes with a similar surge of fake news around the world, with the capacity of debilitating whole nations, vilifying people, cultures and religions at alarming speed, thereby precipitating the incidences of terrorism, hate crime, bigotry and other negative repercussions. Just as technology can create devastation, it can also become a force for good. How can technology be used to combat fake news in the digital future? What will the future of media look like in the next decade?

Hall B

Future Forward : Exploring New Technologies and Its Impact on the World

This thought-provoking session brings forth all the existing and upcoming disruptive technologies and how it will impact the world we live in, the drastic changes we need to face and the business opportunities that it brings.

15:00 - 16:00

THE PROGRAMME

16:00 - 17:00

Hall A

ASEAN Panel - Strengthening the Long-term Partnership between China and ASEAN

Two-way trade between China and ASEAN grew by 14.1 percent to a record USD587.87 billion in 2018, compared to 2017. China has been ASEAN's top trading partner for 10 consecutive years, while ASEAN has been China's third largest trading partner, after the European Union and the United States, for eight years in a row. The gap between China-ASEAN trade volumes and China-US trade volumes narrowed significantly by about 33 percent from USD68.9 billion in 2017 to USD457 billion in 2018. This shows huge potential for the partnership to grow further especially in the midst of the protectionist mood in the West. What could be done to step-up trade between China and ASEAN? What are the institutions and policies to focus on? What are the promising business opportunities to look out for in the next decade?
